

MIDATLANTIC NUTRITION CONFERENCE

August 15, 2019

To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of the Mid-Atlantic Feed Industry Council, it is a pleasure to invite your company to support the Annual Mid-Atlantic Nutrition Conference. This year's meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 7 through Wednesday, April 8, 2020 at the Delta Hotels Baltimore Hunt Valley in Hunt Valley, MD.

We expect to attract nutritionists, buyers, and consultants that are currently working with many of our prominent animal feeding operations. In turn, we want you to have the opportunity to meet with them and hear what they are learning about in the changing world of animal feeding. Your sponsorship allows us to attract quality speakers, ensure acceptable amenities for the group, and support student poster contests.

Please see our website for scheduled topics and speakers!

The 2020 scientific program will begin at 9:00 am on Tuesday April 7th with a Sponsored Symposium session followed by the afternoon General nutrition program and a "happy hour" reception. April 8th will continue with breakout programs for sheep and goats, poultry, equine, and companion animal species. Scientific posters from researchers in the Mid-Atlantic area will be on display the second day and vendor tables on display both days of the meeting. All species' sessions are coordinated with ample break times to permit the audience to view the posters and vendor tables.

All details concerning our sponsorship packages can be found enclosed in this mailing. As a limited number of spaces are available, please reserve your sponsor table as soon as possible to take advantage of this opportunity.

As in the past, sponsor representatives attending the program will have special recognition badges and the company name will appear on our sponsor board. The Mid-Atlantic Feed Industry Council and the University Conference Committee sincerely encourage you to continue to support this prestigious and informative meeting. For your convenience, the registration materials are enclosed. Registration materials, venue information, the updated program, past proceedings and the 2020 abstracts will be available on our website at <https://ansc.umd.edu/extension/mid-atlantic-nutrition-conference>

Sincerely yours,
